CADASTRAL SURVEYORS LICENSING BOARD OF NEW ZEALAND

Introduction

The past year has seen some changes in the Board's activities. The previous Board members' three year tenure expired during the year and a new member has been appointed in place of Marton Sinclair who decided not to seek reappointment after 19 years of service.

A new standard for renewal of licences was implemented for the 2013-14 year. This required the Board to review information provided by applicants and make decisions on the adequacy of the recent experience and competency of a significant number of applicants.

The number of licences issued during the year was slightly less than in previous years. Continued demand for entry into the University of Otago School of Surveying, combined with the fact that most students choose the cadastral option as one of their disciplines, suggests that there will be sufficient new licences issued to meet demand in the medium term.

The Board received one complaint against a cadastral surveyor who had allegedly failed to meet the required standards for cadastral survey.

The Board has continued to keep its costs to a minimum and has not increased the licensing fee for the 2013/14 year. It has achieved a financial result for the year that shows a small surplus.

Jurisdiction

The Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board of New Zealand is constituted by section 10 of the Cadastral Survey Act 2002.

Functions

The functions and duties undertaken by the Board are set out in section 11 of the Cadastral Survey Act. (See Appendix A).

In summary, the primary function of the Board is the licensing of suitably qualified surveyors with current competence to conduct cadastral surveys and lodge them in the cadastral record. For this purpose, the Board sets standards for the education and the practical experience required to obtain and retain a cadastral licence.

The Board exercises disciplinary powers in cases where a cadastral surveyor is charged with negligence, incompetence, falsification, or failure to observe the Rules for Cadastral Survey. The Board has the authority to suspend or cancel a licence, or place a surveyor under the supervision of another licensed cadastral surveyor, where professional misconduct is proven.

Licences are renewed annually.

In addition, the Board participates in reciprocity arrangements with the eight Australian State and Territory boards.

Membership

Under section 13 of the Act there are five board members appointed by the Minister of Land Information. In April 2013 Marton Sinclair retired from the Board after serving on it since 2002 and on the predecessor Survey Board of New Zealand between 1994 and 2002. Merryn Maguire was appointed as a full Board member to fill this vacancy, and Neale Faulkner appointed to fill the resulting substitute Board member vacancy.

The present Board members are:

- Mr Brett Douglas Gawn and Ms Vicki Alma Nalder, appointed as nominees of bodies representing licensed cadastral surveyors pursuant to section 13(2)(a);
- Ms Merryn Kay Maguire and Mr Anthony Paul Nikkel appointed pursuant to section 13(2)(b);

- Ms Katharine Margaret Felicity Price, being a person who is not and never has been a licensed cadastral surveyor and is not employed in the surveying profession is appointed pursuant to section 13(2)(c);
- Surveyor-General, Dr Donald Bruce Grant, as an ex-officio member of the Board pursuant to section 13(1)(b).
- Mr Neale Charles Thomas Faulkner and Ms Marion Grace Miller are substitute members of the Board.

Meetings

The Board met four times in the 2012/13 year, on:

9 August, 2012
7 December, 2012
14 February, 2013
12 June, 2013.

It held one teleconference on 16 July, 2012.

Licences

The table below shows the number of licences issued and non-renewals over the last four years. In the table:

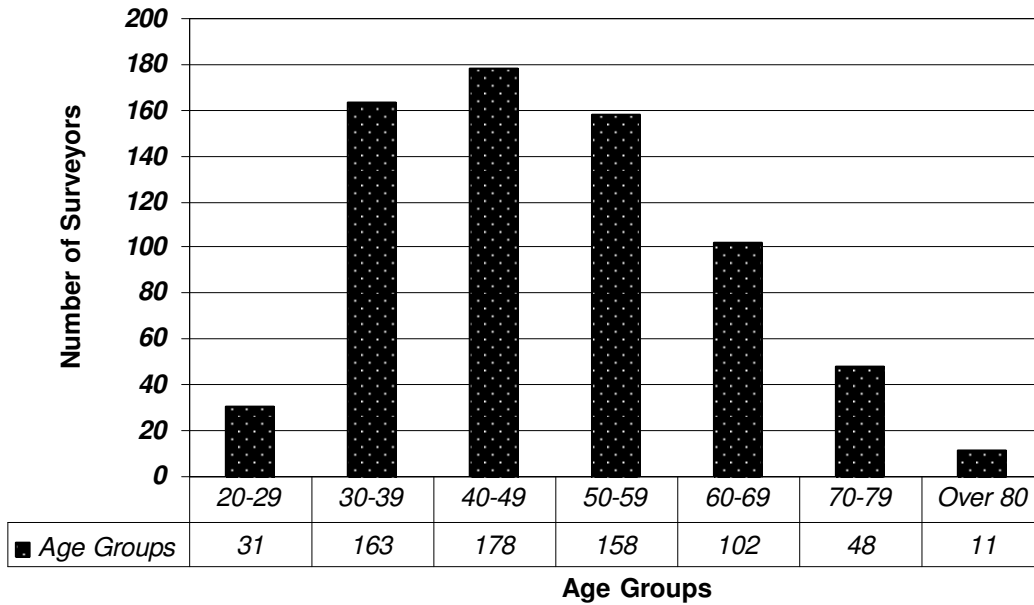

- “Renewed” means the number of licenses renewed at 30 June.
- “New” means the number of initial licenses issued during the year.
- “Re-applied” means the number of licenses issued to surveyors who failed to renew by 30 of June or had let their licence lapse for some time.
- “Non-renewals” means surveyors who chose not to renew their licenses and deceased surveyors.

	12/13	11/12	10/11	09/10
Renewed	657	679	691	690
New	24	15	24	24
Re-applied	10	10	6	13
Total	691	704	721	727
Non-renewals	40	36	32	13

The 691 licensed surveyors are made up of 53 females and 638 males. The number of females has increased from 47 last year. The continued slight reduction in the number of licences issued is not of concern to the Board, given the reduction in cadastral surveying activity caused by the lower level of land development in the economy. The Board expects that the number may reduce further next year as the new standard for renewal may cause some surveyors who are not active in the cadastral area not to seek renewal. However, with the economy improving, the Board expects this effect to be small.

The following graph and tables show surveyors by age group, gender, and ethnicity.

Licensed Surveyors by Age Groups

Ethnicity

NZ	94%
Caucasian	1%
Maori	5%
Other

Gender

Male	92%
Female	8%

The Board is heartened that the 30–39 age band is the second largest group. As surveyors are generally in their mid twenties before they have completed their qualifications and experience requirements for licensing, it is not a concern that the number of licensed surveyors in their twenties is only 31. The 30-39 age group is more important in terms of monitoring the number of licensed surveyors to meet future demand. It is pleasing to see the steady increase in the number of female surveyors.

The under-representation of Maori is noted. The survey profession as a whole needs to address this issue and is doing so.

The Board issued Letters of Accreditation to 14 New Zealand surveyors seeking registration in an Australian State, compared to 17 in 2011/12, 18 in 2010/11, four in 2009/10 and seven in 2008/09. This reflects the demand for New Zealand surveyors in Australia although this trend may be reversing with the reduced demand in the mining industry and a slowing Australian economy.

This year the Board recognised one surveying degree from the Czech Republic as meeting its standards for licensing. In most cases when applicants present surveying degrees from countries other than New Zealand or Australia these degrees are assessed by the Bureau of Assessment of Overseas Qualifications to establish if they meet the Board’s standards for licensing. Since 2002, the Bureau has assessed degrees from the Czech Republic, France, Mauritius, Philippines, South Africa (Natal), UK, and USA (Minnesota) as being equivalent to a four year surveying degree in New Zealand or Australia.

Discipline

The Board received one complaint relating to the conduct of a surveyor. It was from a private individual not associated with the surveying profession. After investigation, the Board did not accept this complaint. The Surveyor-General advised the Board of 15 notices of a significant failure to comply with his standards in accordance with section 7(1)(d) of the Act during the year, compared to one in 2011/12 and seven in 2010/11. The Board monitors the surveyors who have been notified to the Board under this section in the previous three years. As part of this monitoring, the Board takes a more in depth review of these surveyors on a case by case basis before deciding whether to renew their licences. In some cases, the Board has asked applicants for additional information to confirm their competency before renewing their licence.

Licensing Standards

The Board has continued to recognise the admissions interviews conducted by the New Zealand Institute of Surveyors Incorporated as evidence that applicants for initial licences meet the standards of competencies adopted by the Board. The Board monitors the conduct of these examinations.

During the year, the Board amended section 3.2 of its manual, Renewal of a Licence of its Standards for Licensing Cadastral Surveyors. During the consultation period, the Board received 31 submissions on the proposed amendment, most of which supported the proposal. The Board included some of the suggestions raised in the submissions in the adopted amendment. The amendment strengthens the evidential requirements for demonstrating that a surveyor has continuing cadastral competency on renewal of a licence, if the surveyor has not lodged three cadastral datasets in the last three years.

As part of its responsibilities to monitor academic qualifications and practical requirements for the licensing of surveyors, the Board maintains contact with the National School of Surveying at the University of Otago, the only university in New Zealand that offers degrees in surveying.

Reciprocity

Full reciprocity between the New Zealand surveyors' boards and the eight Australian State and Territory surveyors' boards has existed since 1901, although a reciprocity agreement with Australian boards had existed from 1892. The Board also collaborates with the Australian boards on the assessment of other overseas qualifications for equivalence to the New Zealand and Australian degrees and setting policies for the education, training, and regulation of surveyors.

Contact with the Australian boards is maintained directly at board level through the Council of the Reciprocating Surveyors Boards of Australia and New Zealand, comprising the Chairs of each board. Meetings of the Council are generally held once per year. The last meeting was held in Melbourne in November 2012. As the Chairman could not attend, Tony Nikkel represented the Board at the meeting. Following this meeting, the New Zealand Board undertook a survey of all Boards on their licensing renewal process, and the methods they employ to ensure surveyors are achieving the cadastral surveying competencies required for renewing their licences each year. While the survey indicated Boards in all jurisdictions use a variety of processes to give themselves confidence that surveyors are maintaining their competence in cadastral surveying, there was also a high degree of similarity in the methods employed.

Finance

The Board is funded entirely by licensing fees gathered annually from licensed cadastral surveyors. The level of those fees is set by the Board under section 11(1)(c) of the Act. The Board has achieved a small surplus this year due to keeping its operating costs to a minimum by holding only four meetings to reduce Board members fees and travel costs. There were also fewer disciplinary hearings than in past years, and a reduction in sundry expenses. The number of disciplinary hearings held each year cannot be predicted, so from year to year the likely cost is unknown.

The Board has held the licence fee at $184 for the 2013/14 year. The fee is still $27.50 lower than it was when the Board was established in 2002.

Administration

The Board continues to contract the Institute of Professional Engineers New Zealand (IPENZ) to provide administrative services, office facilities, and meeting rooms. IPENZ maintains full time office hours, dedicated telephone and facsimile point of contact, and hosts the Board's website. This is considered to be a very valuable and efficient arrangement for the Board.

Mr Robert Buchanan of Wellington acts as the Board's legal adviser, and Mr Jeremy Maseyk is contracted as the Board Secretary.

APPENDIX B: AUDIT REPORTTo the Members of Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board of New Zealand*Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the financial statements of Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board on pages 11 to 15, which comprise the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2013, and the statement of financial performance, statement of movements in equity and statement of cash flows for the period then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Board Members' Responsibilities

The board members are responsible for the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand and for such internal control as the board members determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand). Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of financial statements that present fairly the matters to which they relate in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.

An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates, as well as evaluating the presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Other than in our capacity as auditor we have no relationship with, or interests in Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board of New Zealand.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements on pages 11 to 15 present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Cadastral Surveyors Licensing Board of New Zealand as at 30 June 2013, and its financial performance and cash flows, for the period then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand.
